CURRICULUM FOCUS

This term our curriculum focus is based off of the feedback that was provided from our whanau at our last parent-teacher interview. The first half of the term will be focusing on emotional regulation, with the second half based on language development.

Tips for home:

A good way to aid in your child's emotional regulation is by teaching them how to identify different emotions and exploring ways in which tamariki can healthily manage them.

Through trial and error you can help the child to find their calm again. This can be done through different ways such as: gentle breathing, de-stimulation, or finding a safe space to calm down.

Remember to also be a good role model when managing your own emotions. Keep up the good work whanau!
